

THE VISA MULTINATIONAL PROGRAM

The VISA Multinational Program connects you to an array of global payment and information solutions to help you more effectively manage your travel, entertainment, and purchasing expenditures, both globally and locally.

The VISA Multinational Program is the right solution for:

- Medium to large companies with offices and employees in more than one country
- Multinational corporations looking for greater efficiencies in controlling travel, entertainment, and purchasing expenditures across borders
- Organizations that want a comprehensive global payment solution that can combine multinational card issuance, widespread card acceptance, and real-time data management

How your company can benefit from the VISA Multinational Program:

Global cost savings – You'll be able to gain more control over expenses, reduce administration costs, and streamline management of your travel, entertainment, and purchasing expenditures both globally and locally. Plus, consolidating your expenditures across countries, you'll have greater leverage to negotiate global discounts with key suppliers and brokers.

Comprehensive solutions – Partnerships between Visa and a worldwide network of leading commercial banks give you access to a range of global payment and information solutions and financial services that can be customized to meet your specific needs.

Centralized Management – A lead bank chosen by your company provides a single point of contact for higher-level program management and administration. At the same time, local partner banks provide Visa Commercial Solutions to your local offices and employees around the world.

Improved Analysis – Data consolidation services from Visa and your financial institution assist in managing and tracking your travel and entertainment, as well as purchasing expenditures. Periodic feeds of transaction data can be segmented by account type and location, and electronically fed into your reporting and/or corporate accounting system.

Worldwide Acceptance – Visa commercial products are welcome at millions of locations worldwide and throughout the Visa Global ATM Network. As one of the world's most accepted payment brands, Visa is the ideal choice for your global purchasing, travel, and entertainments expenditures.
