Visa and healthcare: for better financial health

With shrinking budgets and a greater strain on the healthcare system, Canadian hospitals and healthcare organizations are continually challenged to gain control of their expenses. More affordable and easier to manage than Electronics Funds Transfer (EFT), Visa Commercial card programs can help improve operating processes, lower expenses and let you conduct business more efficiently and profitably.

A Visa Commercial card program enables you to achieve balance and control over your end-to-end purchasing activity. Visa Commercial cards can help you:

- > Control spending
- > Reduce costs
- > Improve efficiency
- > Find suppliers who make purchasing more convenient
- > Track, analyze and predict purchasing
- > Implement a card program with ease

How a Visa Commercial card program can help

Control spending

Visa Commercial card programs provide greater visibility of and control over employee spending, and help protect against card misuse or fraud. With card transaction controls, you can restrict card use to specific types of purchases, or set spending limits by department, division and employee. Detailed records at each step of the transaction—from purchase to approval to reconciliation—keep you informed and in control of your company’s spending. In addition, information is organized and easily accessible, helping to facilitate the preparation of government reports.

Reduce costs

If your purchasing and payables process involves cheques and paper-based purchase orders and invoices, it is likely a tough—and potentially expensive—balancing act. There are often numerous steps involved, which can cost your company precious time and money. A card program such as Visa Commercial can help you reduce internal transaction costs by up to 76%.¹

Saving you more than you thought

A recent study by Deloitte² has shown that the overall cost of using commercial cards for payment is lower than the cost of using most other payment methods.

Payment method	Cost per transaction
Cheque	$3.70
EDI.....	$0.31
EFT	$0.18
Commercial card	$0.03

In addition, using a card program can help improve your cash flow: for example, paying receivables with a Visa Commercial card can delay cash outflows by up to 30 days from the date you receive your card statement, depending upon the length of your “grace period.”

Improve efficiency

Visa Commercial card programs are designed to help make your job easier and enhance your performance by helping to simplify purchasing and procurement processes, streamline your accounting practices and enable easy spend analysis.

- > A Visa Commercial card program can be integrated into your existing procurement and payables processes
- > Virtual or “ghost” accounts can be established where transactions with one supplier or commodity type are charged to one “cardless” account, easing both the ordering and accounting processes
- > Payments can be made any time, anywhere with available online card account access³
- > Visa transaction data integrates into most Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) and accounting systems to make spend analysis easier
- > Accounting and expense management with a Visa Commercial card program are simpler and less labour-intensive than with most other payment methods, such as cheques

Find suppliers who make purchasing more convenient

Paying suppliers can be a labour-intensive process. Sometimes payment methods are dictated by the supplier, putting additional stress on company payment processes and limiting vendor selection.

Visa’s Supplier Matching Service (SMS) identifies suppliers who accept Visa Commercial cards. SMS helps overcome supplier limitations and expands your purchasing opportunities. In addition, SMS opens the doors to international vendors by overcoming the limitations and risks of paying with EFT.

VISA INFORMATION MANAGEMENT CAN HELP YOU FURTHER REDUCE COSTS AND IMPROVE EFFICIENCY

Visa Information Management (VIM) is a web-based application that provides detailed spending data to help you manage travel expenses, negotiate with suppliers for preferred and volume discounts, pre-populate expense reports and electronically submit expenses for management review—all of which helps eliminate unnecessary administrative steps.
